Who do you think is going to win the 2011 Equinox Marathon?

If you have an opinion, send me an e-mail with your picks for the first three men and/or first three women. After we've gathered some predictions, we'll put up a poll on this website where you can vote for your favorite. Then we'll sit back and wait and see what happens on race day, and see if the people who frequent this website are on the money or out to lunch!

To send me an e-mail, roll over the "More" link in the header, then click on "Contact Us" when the list drops down. E-mail submissions only, please - no phone calls with predictions.
