In the summer of 2011, the Equinox Marathon Advisory Committee adopted a policy whereby past winners of the Equinox Marathon (not ultramarathon or relay) would be granted free entry for as long as they wanted to participate in the Equinox events.

To enter you will need a special coupon code to get your free entry. If you have received an e-mail with your coupon code, just go ahead and register, following the instructions in the e-mail. If you are a life member or past champion have not received this e-mail, please click on "Support" in the top menu, then click on "Contact Us", then click on the "John Estle" link, send an e-mail to that e-mail address, and in response you will receive an e-mail telling you how to enter. We are requesting that all past champions and life members enter by September 16 so that bib pickup at the Pump House and on race morning is not quite so hectic.

There is no charge to enter the marathon or relay. If you are entering the ultramarathon, you will be asked to pay an additional fee equal to the difference between the standard marathon entry fee and the standard ultramarathon entry fee.

We request that past champions enter online early, and come to early bib pickup on Thursday and Friday to get their bibs before race day, thus avoiding race morning confusion AND letting the marathon volunteers focus on ensuring a quality race production on race day.
